

Excerpt from Benzinga, August 18, 2026

<https://www.benzinga.com/trading-ideas/movers/26/08/61279996/fuelcell-pullback-deepens-as-investors-weigh-data-center-promise-against-near-term-risks>

FuelCell Pullback Deepens as Investors Weigh Data Center Promise Against Near-Term Risks

FuelCell Energy Inc. (NASDAQ:FCEL) shares fell Tuesday as investors pulled back from more volatile stocks amid broader market weakness.

The Nasdaq dropped 1.85%, the S&P 500 lost 0.66% and Industrials declined about 1.1%.

FCEL Slides With Broader Market Weakness

Tuesday's decline appears largely tied to broader market pressure rather than a company-specific catalyst. With FCEL up more than 390% over past 12 months, the stock is also vulnerable to profit-taking when sentiment turns defensive.

....

FCEL ETF Exposure: Key Funds and Weightings

- Invesco WilderHill Clean Energy ETF (NYSE:PBW): 5.49% Weight
- ... ETF (NYSE: ...): 4.08% Weight
- ... ETF (NASDAQ: ...): 7.24% Weight

Significance: Because FCEL carries such a heavy weight in these funds, any significant inflows or outflows for these ETFs will likely force automatic buying or selling of the stock.